SERBIANS PUSH ENEMY CLOSELY

RELÉNTLESS PURSUIT OF DEFEATED TURKS IN PALESTINE BY BRITISH. ACTIVITY AROUND ST. QUENTIN.

(By the Associated Press)

London, Sept. 24.—Serbians continued to cross the Vardar river northeast of Monastir and in contact with the Bulgarians, says the Serbian official statement. Bulgarians are burning villages and material stores. Around Prilep, the Serbians are on the Gradsko-Prilep road to the northeast while to the southeast they have reached Drenska, the mountain ranges.

Turks Still Retreating.

London, Sept. 24.—British cavalry pushing up the Mediterranean Coast of Palestine have occupied Haifa and Acre, according to official announcement. East of the Jordan the Turks are withdrawing toward Amman on the Hedjaz railway. Australian, New Zealand, Jewish and other troops are pursuing the enemy and have reached Essalt, fifteen miles northwest of Amman.

London, Sept. 24.—British forces are pressing in on St. Quentin from the west, says today's communication from Field Marshall Haig. He reports the fighting to the British' advantage and announces progress by the attacking forces in the regions east of Verdun. West of Cambrai, in Moeuvres region, British positions have been improved. In the Arras-Lens region Germans attacked new British positions southeast of Gavrelle but were repulsed, the statement says.

Artillery on French Front.

Paris, Sept. 24.—Artillery was active last night on the French front below St. Quentin and between the Ailette and Aisne rivers but no infantry action is reported in today's statement.

Bulgarians Deserting.

Paris, Sept. 26.—Many Bulgarian troops are deserting, according to advices from the Macedonian front. It is reported that 560 men from one regiment have been executed at the command of the German officers.

BULGAR DEFEAT GROWS WORSE

LINE OF NINETY MILES ON THE VERGE OF COMPLETE BREAK HASTY RETREAT BEGUN.

(By the Associated Press)
With their center broken by Serbian, French and Italian onslaughts, with British and Greeks sweeping over their strongest defenses in the Lake Dolan region and with railroad communications virtually destroyed Bulgarians, Austro-Hungarians and German armies on the Macedonia front have begun a retreat which threatens disaster over a ninety mile front. Prilep is outflanked on the left by the advancing Serbians and the enemy in the center appears to have broken down completely. It is possible that the retrograde movement will spread to the eastward of Lake Dolan and involve the entire front.

The Turks in Palestine are in a similar position, the allied forces having enveloped the greater portion of the sultan's armies. The French have reached the Oise river between Vendera and Traver before the Hindenburg line while the British are in position north of the city which apparently will make further German retreat imperative. Activity along the American front is confined to patrol actions and artillery duels by the bad weather.

ARCHBISHOP IRELAND STILL ALIVE TODAY.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 24.—Archbishop John Ireland's condition was unchanged at 8 o'clock this morning, his secretary announced. He is still unconscious.

WAR WORKERS AT OKLAHOMA CITY

ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR NEXT WAR WORK CAMPAIGN FOR SEVEN ORGANIZATIONS.

(By the Associated Press)
Oklahoma City, Sept. 24.—Oklahoma's quota in United war work campaign drive during the week of Nov. 11 to 18, will be $1,618,800. This was announced yesterday at the state rally of 300 workers and delegates representing the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., War Camp Community Service, American Liberty Assn., National Catholic War Council, Jewish Welfare Board and Salvation Army, and who met for a conference at State campaign headquarters, 225 West First street. E. W. Marland, state chairman of the executive committee presided. Quotas to the different counties of state will be assigned by the state chairman. Because of drought conditions the greatest care will be exercised in assigning the quotas and all government information in regard to the situation will be carefully studied before naming a sum to be raised in any county.

Talks were made by G. S. Billheimer for the Y. M. C. A., Dr. Katherine Bement Davis and Miss Burner for Y. W. C. A., Joy E. Morgan for the American Liberty Assn., Brig. Geo. A. Woods for the Salvation Army, Father Severus for the National Catholic War Council, Mr. Sours for War Camp Community Service, Rabbi Joseph Blatt for the Jewish Welfare Board. An executive committee was appointed to have general direction of the entire campaign in Oklahoma.

S. A. T. C. MAKING GOOD PROGRESS

President Gordon states that very favorable progress is being made in the organization of the S. A. T. C. at the normal, about 80 being already enrolled and others coming in every day, in many cases being men who had not been expected.

W. A. Delaney of Allen, a prominent war worker chairman of the war savings stamps campaign and member of the county council of defense, Ben McDuffey, Kingston; J. C. Campbell and Poley Phillips, Seminole, and Glenn E. Miller of Holdenville, enrolled Monday.

Estimates are being made on the work necessary to transform the gym into barracks for the men and also a small addition to be made. Mail for the officers who will be in command is already arriving, and the arrival of the officer himself is expected at any time.

U. C. V. REUNION MEETS IN TULSA

THOUSANDS OF WEARERS OF THE GREY ALREADY ON HAND FOR FIRST SESSION.

(By the Associated Press)

Tulsa, Sept. 24.—Many Confederate veterans demonstrated today that the hardihood of their youth is still theirs. Nearly 4,000 of them slept on the floors of the public school houses last night on mattresses supplied by the local committee and covered by blankets supplied by the war department. The veterans were on hand bright and early today well pleased with the accommodations provided them.

The first session of the Cons of the Confederacy will be held tonight but the veterans will hold their first meetings tomorrow when the representatives will be formally welcomed by state and city officials and local camp representatives. A resolutions committee is to be announced and it is believed resolutions pledging unqualified support of the president will be adopted.

Notice Boys Band.

The boys of Prof. Cruz's military band are requested to meet Wednesday night at 8 o'clock at the normal to rehearse for the parade Saturday.

Indications are that the campaign of the Allies in Palestine will now take on the form of a triumphal march for some time to come. It will be several weeks before the Turks can place another army in the field strong enough to offer much opposition, and with the British in Mesopotamia and French, Serbians and Italians in Macedonia in a position to strike at Constantinople in a short time, the Turks have their hands full. Heretofore the Germans have come to the rescue when they were in a tight place, but now they themselves need someone to help them stop the Allied drive on the west, so the outlook for the Turks is not bright.

King Ferdinand of Bulgaria now finds himself one of the most harassed monarchs of Europe and his checkered career may come to a tragic end before much longer. Thirty years ago he was called to the throne of this little poverty stricken nation and exhibited marked ability in the administration of its affairs. In course of time Bulgaria became a power to be respected and was making great material progress in all lines. Then came the first Balkan war in which Bulgaria, Serbia, Montenegro and Greece joined forces and gave Turkey a bad beating, taking most of her territory and dividing it among themselves. In the dispute over the division of the spoils of the war hostilities broke out among the allies themselves and the other three, backed by Rumania, soon brought Bulgaria from the pinnacle of her power to agree to very humiliating terms, part of which was the cession of some territory to Rumania who had kept out of the war on Turkey. When the present war broke out Ferdinand was much sought after on both sides and finally cast his lot with the Germans and helped to crush Serbia and later Rumania. He thus enjoyed his revenge, but now the day of the Allies is at hand, and Ferdinand sees his armies scattered and himself in danger of being chased from his kingdom before another year rolls around. He has had ample opportunity to learn that the head that wears a crown must necessarily be an uneasy one.

Warships have to be cleaned on the outside. On one ship alone 200 men worked all day scraping off 600 tons of animal and plant growth. The weight of the barnacles was so great that from 25 to 40 per cent more coal was consumed in maintaining the normal speed of the boat.

GERMANY FLOATING NINTH WAR LOAN

(By the Associated Press)

Washington, Sept. 24.—Germans are about to subscribe to their ninth "Victory" loan. Whether it will be a "victory" loan depends on some measures on how the American people accept the new war taxes now being framed by congress.

The German loan opens September 23, just five days before the United States starts on its fifth Liberty Loan and for the next four weeks Americans and Germans practically will be engaged in a race to drop their dollars into the hopper of the war mill.

The amount of the German loan is not known here, but it is known it will be made in the form of bonds at five per cent interest and treasury notes. Both securities are to be issued at ninety-eight, which is about the average at which all the German war loans have been floated.

It is through the war loan—a long series of them in fact—that the German empire has financed its part of the world struggle. Taxation has been resorted to of course, but as compared with taxation in England and France or in the United States, the extra tax burden which has fallen on the lost of the German people has been light indeed.

Before the war Germany had adopted some rather stringent laws for taxation. The war once a reality, they decided to meet actual expenses by loans and impose only enough extra taxes to meet the interest on the loans. But as it fell out Germany was building her hopes on a poor foundation. It was believed by the German people that the war would be over in a few months; that Germany, by means of the tremendous military machine which she had been building throughout the years would crush her opponents before the end of the year 1914. Belgium, France and England were to pay heavy indemnities to recoup the German treasury.

Had this plan materialized the German idea of war finance would have worked, but the war went on; it is still going on, and the German debt is piling higher. Present day Germany is worrying little over the financial straits in which the nation finds itself. Posterity must pay the penalty.

Today the German public debt is $27,757,000,000, about $1,000,000,000 less than that of Great Britain and $17,000,000,000 more than that of the United States.

Austria has a public debt of $12,782,000,000 while the debt of France despite the fact that this country has been most torn by the actual fighting has contracted about $6,000,000,000 less than that of Germany. Before the war Germany had a public debt of only a little over $1,000,000,000 less by a narrow margin, than that of the United States.

Actual figures as to the amounts of the various German war loans are unavailable, but it is generally known that they have been larger than those of Great Britain. The total English expenditure at the end of March, 1918, has been $7,000,000,000.

Through her present method taxation Germany cannot even hope to pay the interest on her war loans. The attempt to levy an increased tax met with stern opposition on the part of the Federal states and a tax on increased incomes was then resorted to, while an ad valorem levy was made upon all property. Incomes were then capitalized and taxed, and an excess profits tax similar, in a way, to that in vogue in the United States was adopted.

But the German corporations did not respond. Attempts at tax evasion through false book-keeping and other means, were brought to light and punished.

The personal property tax called for certain exemptions. Among these, jewels were included, and the German financiers made huge investments in pearls and other precious stones. These were taxed in turn, but other means of tax dodging were discovered. The German will freely lay down his life for the Fatherland, but he will not lay down his money unless it is reasonably secured and a fair rate of interest is promised.

Public interest in the German war loans has been stimulated by American publicity methods.

When it was discovered during the early loans that the farming class was not buying bonds to the extent expected, an educational campaign was inaugurated for their especial benefit. The third and fourth loans were designed for the special benefit of the laboring classes. Bonds as low as $25.00 were placed on the market and met with ready sale. The last loans have been for the big investors and since the bonds sold at from 97 1-2 to 98 1-2 it has not been difficult for the government to find plenty of buyers.

The banks have given great aid in the disposition of the bonds. For their share in disposing of the bonds they were given fat commissions, a method which worked well during certain periods of the American Civil War. Municipalities, as such, made heavy investments in bonds, the public treasuries of these municipalities being compelled to borrow the money with which to make the purchases.

Educational campaigns have been an important means of stimulating interest in the war loans, but coercion in one form or other has also been used with characteristic Prussian high-handedness. This has been especially true in the case of soldiers. If they did not buy bonds leave of absence was denied, disagreeable duties were forced upon them and they were never in line for promotion.

German leaders have offered many solutions of the post-bellum problem which confronts their country. Future generations have been saddled with a debt which they can scarcely hope to clear off even by drastic means until the vitality of the country has been sapped. Government control of tobacco and other luxuries may be expected.

In short, if there is a German government after the war it is probable the state will dominate all industry and the profits, thus earned by the state, will be used to wipe off the debt which Germany has placed upon her people.

REZNOR

THE MOUNTAIN LION'S TRIP.

"I must tell you," said the mountain lion whose name was Jim, "of the trip I have had."

Jim was a very beautiful mountain lion or puma and had just arrived in a big western zoo.

He was three years old and weighed one hundred and seventy-eight pounds, which is quite a good deal for a three-year-old to weigh.

"I was taken to the East," Jim said grandly, "and they had quite a time catching me to take me there. Ah, but I knew they wanted to have quite a hard time. Because," he added after a pause, "there was a reason."

"What could the reason have been?" his new zoo companions asked each other. They didn't want to ask him because they were afraid he would be quite unbearable if he became too conceited, and he had already had so many interesting experiences.

"What are you talking about?" Jim asked, for he noticed that they had been whispering to each other.

"Oh nothing very important," one of them said.

"Then you must have been talking about me," Jim said.

"What!" they all exclaimed. "The very idea!"

"Now what is the trouble?" inquired Jim.

"Do you mean to tell us," one of the zoo mountain lions named Tom asked, "that you don't consider yourself important after your journey and your experiences?"

"Oh, no," said Jim, "it hasn't changed me. I hate creatures who go off on trips and come back as if they'd been made all over again. They pretend they aren't used to the home ways at all, in a short time they've grown so used to the ways of other folks and creatures, and they put on such airs! Oh, such airs as they put on! I didn't really want to come here. I was afraid you would all think I was that sort of an animal."

"I roared good and hard too when they took me down to the express company from my Eastern home. I just said to them that I didn't want to move. I was willing to stay where I was."

But they paid no attention to me as they had decided to send me out here. "No, I think I can truthfully say I am not conceited. But if you would like to hear about my trip I will tell you about it. For the trip was interesting—it wasn't myself that was so interesting—it was the trip. That often makes me so angry in creatures. They take all the credit to themselves for the trip."

"The places they have visited they think make them more interesting and far finer! And they don't give the credit to the places.

"Well, to continue, for my experiences have been interesting, just because I have had a great deal of luck in seeing something of life."

Jim roared a little and then continued, "As I said before they had a hard time catching me in the first place because they let me know they wanted to have a hard time. I wasn't feeling in the least wild. But they were taking my picture for the moving pictures and so they wanted me to appear like a very bad mountain lion. I did my part as I was told by my master who had made a great pet of me since the days when I hurt my foot as a little fellow. He took pity on me, and looked after me."

"Then I was taken East and I stood three times a day outside a moving picture theater and roared. Now there wasn't anything to that. It was quite simple for me to roar."

"In fact they couldn't have given me an easier act. So why get conceited over that? I didn't."

"And while I roared in a cage outside the theater, the people bought tickets for the show and went inside to see my picture."

"But my master said I could do better than that, because there were so many tricks I could do, and some more I could learn."

"What can you do?" the zoo companions asked.

"Oh, a few left and right springs and so forth," said Jim modestly, "but I want to learn a lot more. They're going to make a trick lion out of me."

"It's a wonder you're not conceited," the others said.

"Nonsense," said Jim, "it's simply because I've been a very lucky lion. Things have just come my way, and I have the sense to see that, and not to think it's because I'm such a wonder!"

What the U. S. Government Says

About the Christmas Business.

"The Retail Interests represented at the conference have agreed not to increase their working force by reason of holiday business over the average force employed by them throughout the year and not to increase the normal working hours of their force during the Christmas season. They also agreed to use their utmost effort to confine Christmas giving except small children, to useful articles and to spread the period for Holiday purchases over the months of October, November and December, in order to relieve the transportation facilities of the country of congestion in the latter half of December which would be so hurtful to the interest of the Nation, that it cannot be permitted. The retail interests represented at this hearing have agreed to co-operate further in the campaign heretofore and now being carried on under the auspices of the War Industries Boards to restrict deliveries and to induce their customers to carry their own packages wherever possible."

We expect to carry out this request and especially ask those who expect to buy holiday goods to do so as early as possible.

The Habit of Self-Denial

By REV. ED. F. COOK, D. D.
Director Missionary Course, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT—If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me.—Luke 9:23.

It requires self-abnegation to follow Christ in the way of everlasting life, and utmost self-denial to enter fully with him into his program for the world. In man's relation to Jesus Christ self-denial is an essential mark of discipleship, and a first requisite to reality of spiritual experience. In man's relation to man and to world betterment self-denial is fundamental to all effective ministry of the Gospel.

The self-denial of which the Master speaks in the text is not to be thought of as an impulsive act, or as a spasmodic self-forgetfulness, but rather as a habit of life. The self-denial to which he refers is more than unselfishness in meeting emergent demands. It is more than liberality in times of special public need; it is in reality a matter of daily practice. The Master no doubt places special emphasis upon "daily" when he says, "If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me." A self-denial which is less than a fixed principle of life and less than a daily practice cannot usher a man into the comradeship of Christ in service. If ever we follow him truly it is in the way which he here describes.

In the day of our nation's glory and power, with the doors of Christian opportunity wide open in every land, we have failed to enter fully into the Master's plan for his world. Christ has been too largely shut out of the life of the American people through a gradual yielding to the subtle temptations of great prosperity. We have accepted with indifference his great commission and have put forth but meager effort to evangelize the nations. The love of luxury and ease has produced such softness and self-indulgence in the churches of America as renders difficult the response to a challenge which demands heroic self-denial and self-abnegating service. The American people have, however, been brought by the exigencies of war to the practice of self-denial, self-sacrifice and liberality in giving to an extent unprecedented in our history. Splendid has been the response to the nation's call for men and money. Both are being offered without stint. The moving of the American heart in pity for human suffering, and the new evaluation of physical strength and moral power, have led the American people to pour out their wealth in order to feed the hungry, heal the suffering, comfort the sorrowing, and to equip and protect our soldiers in both moral and physical efficiency. In the awful school of war we are learning lessons of great moral value.

The peril is that after the war we may lapse again into the softness and needless self-indulgence of other days. Weary of self-restraint and self-denial, it will be easy to rush again to the frivolities and pleasures of the world and to the luxurious living to which the American people have become so accustomed.

In such a return to selfishness, self-indulgence and self-love, there are imminent perils to our nation and to the cause of Christ. Against such a peril our people must be protected. This can best be done by keeping before them the Master's great world-program: The enterprise of foreign missions. It alone of all human enterprises carries the full moral equivalent of war. It alone makes a like appeal to that of war—to love, to loyalty, to courage and self-sacrifice. The missionary enterprise alone presents the utmost appeal of love to God and of love to our fellow men. It develops as no other obligation or activity the sense of the Fatherhood of God and the consciousness of the brotherhood of man. If we would preserve in the heart of this nation the finest, the noblest, the best products in human character of this great war, we must make of America a great missionary nation, fired with a passion for world-wide service. To this end the churches of America must be held to a vision of the Master's missionary program for the world. They must be led to see that victory for the allies is but a partial victory and the world-wide peace which the allies demand but a temporary peace, unless we hold the "salient" already driven into heathen darkness, and resolutely drive on to fullest success in the foreign mission enterprise. There is no possible basis of permanent world-peace which does not take account of Christ and his kingdom on earth.

It is of supreme importance, therefore, that we hear with new interest and resolution the Master's challenge to self-denial. Having learned in war through love of country the meaning of willing self-sacrifice, let us now for love of Christ learn the full meaning of following him in sacrificial service.

Piano Playing.

No instrument has such a vast literature, as rich and voluminous, as the piano, and more people are teaching and studying it than any other instrument. The reason that, in spite of its popularity, there are only few who play it well and artistically is that the majority of people consider piano playing more as a means of amusement and a pleasant diversion than as a medium with which it is possible to produce the deepest feelings and the highest in art.

GOOD NEWS FOR ADA CITIZENS

Things are picking up for Ada citizens who own stock in the Carnegie Mining & Milling Company. The Company has one of the richest mines in the Miami field.

P. L. Bucy, of Bartlesville, who is president of the Company, was in the city Monday evening and met with many of the stockholders and all were pleased with the report made by Mr. Bucy that the Company Mill was practically completed and that they would soon be selling ore, out of which big profits are sure to follow.

The Carnegie Company is, in fact, one of the most economically managed companies in the Miami field. The capital stock is $150,000. The Company has an up-to-date mill and will be paying good dividends before they have spent $100,000. No officers of the company draw a salary or hold controlling stock. Stock that is owned by the officers does not participate in any dividends of profits until all outside stockholders have received their money back.

The Company was organized and managed by P. L. Bucy, who is a very conservative and successful business man. Three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000) has twice been refused for the company's holdings.—Adv.*

Notice, Business Men.

I desire to call the attention of the business houses of the town to the fact that the order for lightless Monday and Tuesday nights has not been rescinded and that all sign-lights of whatsoever kind and all outdoor light not necessary for public safety must be turned off for these nights. Undue carelessness has caused some trouble and annoyance recently and sign lights have burned on lightless nights. Your patriotism can be manifested in no better way than in the observance of these regulations. Let me urge that this matter be given your close attention in the future.

Drug Stores Adopt New Rule

We, the undersigned Druggists of the city of Ada, agree, beginning October 1, to close our respective places of business at 7 o'clock P. M., except on Saturday nights and during the coming holiday season. This is done because of the following reasons:

For the conservation of fuel.

There is a shortage of help in every Drug Store in Ada.

Many of the men working in our stores are soon to be called to the army. We desire to release them from service as early in the evening as possible in order that they may have an opportunity to mingle with their friends and loved ones before going away.

The saving of sugar syrups is necessary. A great deal of sugar is consumed at soda fountains, and all that is unnecessary which is sold after supper time. We want to co-operate in every conservation movement.

GEORGIA PHYSICIAN PRESCRIBES TANLAC

Dr. J. T. Edwards Tells of Remarkable Results Being Obtained Through Use of the Master Medicine

"In my thirty years of active practice as a licensed physician, I have never seen anything to equal Tanlac as a medicine to produce results," says Dr. J. T. Edwards of Fayetteville, Georgia.

"People on all sides are telling of the benefits they have derived from its use," he continued, "and I am prescribing it for my patients almost every day. Just a little while ago, a well known woman of Fayetteville told me that her daughter had been confined to her bed for three years with what had been called pellagra, and that after using Tanlac a short time she was up and well on the road to recovery. Seldom a day passes that someone does not tell me something about the good results they are getting from Tanlac."

"Some of our most prominent people have reported unusual gains in weight, and I have treated some stubborn cases of indigestion, catarrhal trouble and organic disorders with Tanlac, and secured splendid results."

Tanlac is sold in Ada by Gwin & Mays Drug Co.

Methodist Matters.

We had a great day Sunday with two stirring sermons by Bishop Edwin D. Mouzon. He is one of the great leaders among the bishops of American Methodism.

The Epworth Leaguers had a delightful social evening Monday evening in their Chapter rooms. Many young people participated in the social amusements of the hour. Among them were many of the students of East Central State Normal.

Because of the many engagements of the week, the prayer meeting will not be held Wednesday evening. But Friday evening at 8 there will be the usual weekly singing meeting for the people, both young and old.

The sermon theme for both hours next Sunday will be "The Place of Prayer in World Conquest." Just at this time American Methodism is laying a special emphasis upon prayer. All of our people are called to devote much time to intercession for others—especially for our soldiers and sailors.

We desire to welcome into our church fellowship all newly come Methodist people. The doors of our church are always open to such as desire membership with us.—Wallace M. Crutchfield, Pastor.

LIBERTY TRAIN COMING OCTOBER 2

The Liberty Train, first scheduled for Thursday and afterwards postponed indefinitely is now scheduled to reach Ada Wednesday, October 2, being six days later than first announced.

As stated before, the train will arrive via the Santa Fe, will park at the Santa Fe station and a mass meeting held there which will be addressed by war workers of national reputation. The plan is to create as much interest and enthusiasm as possible in the coming loan, the campaign for which will be under full headway at the time set for the train to visit Ada. The first announcement stated that the train will carry thirty-two people.

GORE IGNORED BY STATE CONVENTION

Oklahoma City, Sept. 24.—Resentment of the democratic party, and Oklahoma generally, to Senator Gore's alleged disloyal and anti-war attitude was silently but none the less emphatically recorded here yesterday when the democratic state convention, made up of nearly 1500 of his fellow partymen, representing every city and county in the state, refrained from extending the blind senator the usual courtesy of an invitation to address their gathering.

Senator Gore was in the city, having come here, he said, at the invitation of the chairman of the democratic state campaign committee. At one time he was on the floor of the convention, but his presence attracted no more attention than that of the humblest delegate. Other democratic representatives in congress were lauded and eulogized for their steadfast loyalty and support of the president in resolutions and by the speakers, but not once was the name of Senator Gore mentioned.

The platform adopted by the convention is substantially the same as the resolutions adopted at the recent meeting of the state committee. It endorses national prohibition, woman suffrage and the "honest and efficient administration of the state government." It pledges the democratic nominees to a clean, efficient administration of state government at a minimum cost to the tax payers. Elimination of politics from the state schools and an equitable and just apportionment of the burden of taxation also is pledged.

Most of the platform is devoted to the war. It declares for a "victory so conclusive that the German people will know that right and liberty shall prevail everywhere."

TERMS OF LIBERTY BONDS ANNOUNCED

Washington, Sept. 24.—All terms of the fourth Liberty loan except the size and maturity were announced today by the treasury. The amount, probably near $6,000,000,000, was decided on, but announcement was withheld.

The interest rate will be 4 1-4 per cent, the same as that of the third Liberty Loan. Bonds will be dated October 24, five days after the close of the subscription period, and the first interest payment will be made next April 15, and will be for the 173 days intervening. Thereafter, semi-annual payments will be made October 15 and April 15. On a $50 bond the first interest coupon will be worth $1.01, on $100, $2.02 and higher multiples accordingly.

Ten percent of the subscription will be required as the initial payment on the fourth loan.

Baptist Sunday School Drive.

Next Sunday has been designated as Baptist-Go-to-Sunday-School Day in the South.

In the 17 Southern states Baptists have 18,134 Sunday schools with a total enrollment of 1,835,811 pupils. The object of this drive is to add another million to these schools.

Oklahoma Baptists have about 500 Sunday schools with an enrollment of 47,211 pupils. This drive ought to bring thousands into these schools.

The Sunday school of the First Baptist church of Ada has about 225 students in attendance. With a church membership of over 400 there ought to be 300 church members in the Sunday school. Are you a member of the church? Why don't you come to Sunday school?

This Sunday school drive is to get all Baptists of Ada lined up. This is an urgent invitation for you to come. Let us have dozens of new pupils Sunday. Begin to get ready now.—Bonnie Grimes, Pastor.

INDICATIONS OF OKLAHOMA PROSPERITY

Oklahoma City, Sept. 24 (Special).—At the state headquarters for the loan in the capitol building a corps of investigators have been digging into various interesting phases of Oklahoma life. Among other interesting information they have found that more than 50,000 passenger automobiles have been purchased in the state since America went to war, representing an investment of more than $5,000,000. Investigators have found that corporation earnings in the state have increased more than twenty-five per cent during the same period and that individual earnings of the citizenship has been in like proportion. Although some parts of the state have suffered from severe drought bank deposits of the state have enjoyed a healthy increase since the last Liberty Loan, especially individual savings deposits. With this knowledge there is supreme confidence that Oklahoma will make its quota in the fourth loan just as quickly as she has in all former loans. STATE LIBERTY LOAN HEAD-QUARTERS.

RED CROSS BELGIAN RELIEF DRIVE

This extract from a letter of a well-to-do lady of Brussels shows the conditions exactly.

"Perhaps you will laugh when you hear that I wear a cloak made from my husband's garde civique overcoat, a waist made from his football shirt, and a skirt made of a dyed bed sheet. Mother had a suit made from the tablecloth. J and M have cloaks made from woolen blankets, and S a dress made of burlap. But all this is only amusing in comparison with the wretchedness of the population. After all, we remain calm and confident of victory."

With hundreds of thousands of the populations of occupied Belgium and France so shamelessly clad as to warrant the above lady in feeling that she is extremely fortunate, can you refuse to hear the appeal for our help, when it will in reality cost us so little, when that little will relieve a situation that is so terrible, especially when winter is coming on, and their suffering will be so great.

Please have your bundle ready Thursday morning, and out on your front porch; the trucks will be there to get it.

If you are in doubt as to what will be of service, call E. S. Haraway, phone 728.

REMEMBER THE DATE, THURSDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 26TH, 1918.

The Whistles will remind you to get your bundles ready.
